King County Law Library Monthly Digest

Having trouble viewing the email? View as Webpage

Free AI Drafting Assistant at KCLL

CoCounsel is primarily a drafting assistant. Think of it as Della Street on steroids. For those of you who grew up with more than three tv channels, Della was Perry Mason's legal secretary who was smart as a whip and generally saved the day. You input the documents that you would like to focus on and CoCounsel works within that universe.

Continue Reading

NLRB Research Database

Matt Bruenig, a labor lawyer, created NLRB Research Database to house all legal documents released by the NLRB. It includes published and unpublished board decisions, supreme & circuit court decisions, appellate briefs, and more. It offers a variety of search types including case number, date, legal citation, and names. The database holds full text documents in addition to AI generated summaries of them.

Test it out for Yourself

Upcoming Events

April 3 - Navigating Legal Shifts – Trump's Administration

April 14 - Dealing with Debt Collections Course

April 24 - WA Legal Research for Non-lawyers

Continue Reading

New and Updated Materials

We have several new and updated resources at the library. Some updated materials include our McCormick on Evidence and KCLL Eviction Packet. We also have several new eBooks available in LexisNexis.

Continue Reading

King County Law Library | 516 3rd Avenue, Suite W621 | Seattle, WA 98104 US

Unsubscribe | Update Profile | Constant Contact Data Notice

Constant Contact

Try email & social marketing for free!